I do not remember the time when I decided to be a lawyer. The determination was made back beyond the time to which my memory runs. It was my chosen profession. There is one thing I have always loved in the profession of the law, and it is this: sion was then formed and proceeded to the | That in the law men contend over the chapel, the way being led by two heralds, principle at stake without arousing those two gentlemen ushers, the Lord Chamber- personal animosities which are sometimes aroused eisewhere. So that while I have been upon various sides of the law, I have been in no position where I completely lost sight of it. "In my opinion a lawyer is a labor-saying machine. He comes in response to a demand. People find it more economical to employ a lawyer when they need one to represent their interests, to present their ideas, or to defend their rights, than it would be for each man to be his own lawyer. It is a lawyer's duty to present to the court the rights of his client and those facts which present his client's case. And it is not his duty to attempt to secure that which his client is not entitled to. PARKERSBURG, W. Va., July 22.-The largest State convention either political party ever held in this State began here at 11 o'clock this morning. Hon. William O. Dawson, chairman of the State committee, called the assemblage to order. Hon. S. B. Elkins was announced as temporary chairman. He received an ovation lasting several minutes on taking the chair. He spoke for about an hour, sounding the keynote to West Virginia's campaign, and was repeatedly greeted with vociferous applause. He discussed the tariff and silver questions at length. After showing how the newly developed industries of West Virginia had been depressed since 1892 he produced statistics in favor of protection as the most important issue for the development of the natural resources of the favored protection and sound money, the latter being also of vital importance to the When the royal bridal couple arrived at | business interests of the growing State.

"The Democratic party, in its platform, adheres to war on protection and reciprocity and favors restriction upon the freedom of contract. It declares for the free and unlimited coinage of silver, the debasement of the currency, for paper money, class legislation, an income tax, larger control of railroads by the government, against the life tenure of federal judges, attacks the Supreme and federal courts, opposes the rotection of public property and mails by federal authority under the decision of the federal courts, declares for repudiation and against maintaining the public credit. The spirit of repudiation and revolution pervades the platform as it guided the deliberations of the convention. It can be safely tiara of diamonds and pearls. Mrs. Joseph | said that the advocates of free silver, flat money, repudiators of obligations and contracts, enemies of the courts, those opposed to sound money and against maintaining the national credit, those opposed to the rights of property, the Socialist, Communist and Anarchist, can all, with equal consistency, stand on and support the Chicago platform adopted by the new Democratic party. Free government cannot exist with these forces in the ascendency. The party that adopts such a platform is getting ready to die, or the Republic is. The success of one means the death of the other. This is the first time the Supreme and federal courts have been attacked in a national platform. Happily for the perpetuity of the government, a political convention led by revolutionary forces, though it may assault, cannot destroy the Supreme Court. Congress cannot destroy it. Only the majority of the people can decree its destruction, as they can that of our liberty and of the Republic. I have an abiding faith in the people; they are not ready for anarchy. The demand for larger control of railroads by the government becomes alarming when it is considered along with the open assault on the federal courts. To make any revolution successful the courts must first be silenced. If this platform had stopped at a declaration for tariff for revenue, for free silver, etc., and Dick Bland or some other old-fashioned Democrat had been nominated, it would not have been so bad. But when the platform favors restriction upon the freedom of contracts, attacks ederal courts and opposes the protection of United States property by federal power, malice, viciousness and anarchy become too visible and the purposes of the new Denocracy are uncovered.' It is well known that Senator Elkins is largely interested in silver mines. He devoted the greater part of his argument in showing the ruinous results of free coinage. He introduced his argument against free coinage as follows: "I have been a producer of silver over sixteen years, and naturally I am its friend and favor its largest possible use as money consistent with sound and stable currency. My interest would incline me to favor the free coinage of silver if I could see that it was practicable or possible, or that it rested upon any sound principles. The people now agitating the silver question and demanding its free and unlimited coinage at 16 to 1, when silver is only worth 31 to 1, are its worst enemies apart from the injury it would do the country. I did not favor the purchasing clause of the Sherman act, because I felt, as a friend of silver and as a citizen. that it would increase the production of silver and thereby lessen its value in the markets and destroy confidence in it as money. This was the result." Senator Ikins then argued that free and unlimited coinage would not only drive gold out of circulation and demoralize business, but that it would also debase the white metal so as finally to destroy it as money.

Hon George Wesley Atkinson, of Ohio county, was nominated for Governor this afternoon by acclamation. Mr. Atkinson is about fifty years old. After his nomination the convention took a recess.

WHAT CARLISLE SAID. Harry H. Smith's Reply to the Secretary's Recent Denial. WASHINGTON, July 22.-Mr. Harry H. Smith, former journal clerk of the House of Representatives, to-day gave out a public statement concerning the denial made by Secretary Carlisle, just prior to the Chicago convention, that he had ever told him (Smith) that if the Chicago convention declared for free silver he (Carlisle) would support McKinley. Mr. Smith's card says that in the interview which called forth the denial he was misquoted, he having told the reporter that Mr. Carlisle made the statement for ex-Secretary of the Treasury Foster, whereas the interview made it appear that Mr. Carlisle had made such a statement to him (Smith). Mr. Carlisle, he says, therefore had a right to deny having made any such statement to himself. Mr. Smith then reiterates what he told the reporter as to the talk between Secretary Carlisle and ex-Secretary Foster. and incorporates in his card the following letter from Mr. Foster, dated Fostoria, O.,

My Dear Sir-In response to your favor of the 8th inst., I have to say that some Secretary Carlisle, and in the course of a pleasant conversation, while discussing financial affairs, he stated that if he was compelled to choose between a Democratic candidate for President on an unsoundmoney platform and a Republican candidate on a sound-money platform, he would support the Republican ticket. I went direct from the Treasury Department to the Arlington Hotel, where I met you and Mr. Robert J. Wynne, to whom I repeated the foregoing statement of Secretary Carlisle. I also said to you that, while the Secretary did not impose any confidence on me, preferred not to have his statement made public and as coming from me.

LEADING FINANCIAL HOUSES READY TO HELP THE GOVERNMENT.

Committee Appointed, with J. P. Morgan as Chairman-Hoarding of Gold Begun to a Small Extent.

NEW YORK, July 22.-The strain on the resources and temper of the financial community for some time, owing to the steady shrinkage of the prices of the Stock Exchange securities, has recently been intensified by political and other causes. In consequence, values have steadily melted away on a panic scale, though without visible excitement or open disaster. The market has appeared to be entirely supported, and its only mainstay during the past few weeks has been spasmodic buying of our securities, at times on a large scale, for foreign account. The fact that the commercial balance of trade is in our favor, and that, but for the result of the prevailing gloomy sentiment, the movement of gold should be toward instead of against the United States, aggravates the situation. The dom inant depressing influences have been the steady experts of the metal and the con sequent rapid process of depletion of the government's gold reserve. On July 11 the free gold held amounted to $100,293,688. By July 18 the reserve had fallen to $96,703,621, and at the close of business yesterday i stood at $89,780,180. These figures were further reduced to-day by withdrawals of gold amounting to $2,375,000, including $2,000,000 or export to-morrow, bringing the total down to $87,405/180. The decrease in the eleven days amounted to nearly $13,000,000 The continued strength of the foreign exchange market clearly indicates a steady outflow of gold, and the transfer of credits from this country to Europe. The judgment of the best financial authorites is that the government could market a further issue of either 4, 41/2 or 5 per cent. bonds at par, but the policy of such action is admitted to be bad in view of the probable political effect. The sharp declines in securities recently had created a sentiment of profound discouragement in Wall street, and the gravity of the situation was keeny appreciated in high financial and bank-

President Frederick P. Tappan, of the Gallatin National Bank, who is chairman the clearing-house committee of the New York Associated Banks, began mis sionary work a few days ago among his prother bankers with a view to securing pledges to protect the rapidly dwindling treasury gold reserve by placing at the disposal of the government a substantial part of their holdings of gold in exchange for egal-tender notes, and succeeded in obtaining offers aggregating about $13,000,000, Conditional offers of about $5,000,000 have been received from other New York, Boston and Philadelphia banks. The successive reports of the progress that was being made helped to rally the stock market to a partial extent, although in the opinion of many financiers the remedy was not likely to be of more than temporary effect. The street had previously witnessed the disapperance of enormous sums of gold owing to almost exactly similar conditions to those now prevailing, but admitted that the interval bething more than a year ago I called on fore the crop-moving season would furnish supplies of exchange sufficient to turn the gold current, might be bridged over successfully in the manner indicated.

CONFERENCE OF BANKERS. To-day, however, a complete change in the financial temper took place when it became known that J. P. Morgan had called a conference of the great foreign banking houses with a view to concerted action to prevent exports of gold within the next sixty days. The meeting was attended by representatives of all the leading international banking houses, including Lazard Freres, L. Von Hoffman & Co. Brown Bros. & Co., Kuhn, Loeb & Co. August Belmont & Co., Ladenburg, Thalmann & Co., Heidelbach, Ickelheimer & Co., Hallgarten & Co. and Speyer & Co. There were also present President John A. McCall, of the New York Life Insurance Company; W. H. Crossman, of W. H. Crossman & Bro.; Mr. Pliney Fisk, of Harvey Fisk's Sons, the representative government bond house, and other financiers. Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan presided The conference lasted about an hour and after adjournment it was announced that an agreement had been outlined and a tails of the plan for the protection of the treasury gold reserve. The committee consists of J. Pierpont Morgan, chairman; John Crosby Brown, of Brown Bros. & Co.; A. Luttzen, of August Belmont & Co.; Jacob Schiff, of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. W. Saloman, of Speyer & Co.; H. Ickel-beimer, of Heidelbach, Ickelheimer & Co., and E. Mayer, of Lazard Freres, No details of the proposed plan were obtainable, but the popular impression in the street is that a pool sale of six:y day bills will be formed. This is mere conjecture lowever. At all events the practically joint action of the New York banks and of the gold exporting houses is regarded as of the first importance and is expected to cause a decided change for the better in the situation. By Sept. 1 grain and cot ton bills will be in the market to a sufficient extent to exert an important favorable influence upon the exchange market, In the last hour of business it became known that the banks, in pursuance of their agreement, were turning substantial amounts of gold into the subtreasury. The effect of the news and of the agreement reached between the gold shipping houses was to impart decided buoyancy to the stock market and prices closed at the top figures of the day. London appeared to have had an inkling of what was forthcoming, as it has recently been and was to-day, a fairly large buyer of our secur-The exact amount of gold turned into the subtreasury to-day by the banks in ex-change for legal-tender notes was $7,750,-069. for this purpose, but to-day the amount withdrawn aggregated $744,100

The reserve was diminished to-day by the amount of $2,776,500, of which $1,250,000 was coin for export and $762,000 gold bars for the same purpose. Jewelers and other users in the arts took $20,400 in bars for home use. This leaves the balance at the close of business to-day $86,839,528. The news of the meeting of bankers in New York to-day reached the Treasury Department, but only unofficially. It has been known for several days that the bankers were contemplating united action to conrol the exchange market and protect the treasury gold, and it would be welcome news to the officials here to know that the plan of selling sixty-day bills against the fall crops to the amount of perhaps $10,-000,000, had been agreed upon. Secretary Lamont has returned to Washington from New York, and spent some time in conference with Secretary Carlisle, who is just back from a short voyage down the Chesapeake bay with Secretary Her-bert. It can be stated positively that the administration has not now and has not had recently any intention of resorting to another bond issue for the purpose of re-plenishing the gold reserve, and under the present condition of the treasury and the prospects of business in the near future no apprehension is felt that recourse must be had to such an issue. ing the national treasury gold reserve. A movement was started among them to-day to raise $1,000,000 gold for this purpose, and before the close of business over $500,000 was pledged. This afternoon inquiries were received from a number of banks in the State as to whether the subtreasury would pay the expressage on gold coin to this city. They were informed by the government officials here that the charges both ways would be paid. This inquiry, it is believed, foreshadows quite a movement of the yellow metal from the interior.

Will Raise $2,000,000. BOSTON, July 22.-President T. B. Beal, of the Second National Bank, is attempting to secure Boston relief for the United States treasury. His intention is to raise

$2,000,000 in gold, which sum represents about one-third of the gold in the banks of this city. He is meeting with success and expects to have the full sum by Thurs-

Mohammedan Rebels Overrunning th Country and Massacring and Pillaging at Will.

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 22.-The steamer Empress of India arrived last night from the Orient bringing advices to July 8, as follows: Imperial Chinese troops were recently sent to Lanchou to suppress against the authorities. The rebels routed the imperial troops and seem to have annihilated them, although the imperial troops were better provisioned and equipped. There were 6,000 troops sent to subdue the rebels and all are either killed or missing. The rebels are now mad for blood, massacreing all in authority, killing and pillagng on the triumphant marches through the country. Eight thousand troops will be sent, but it is thought all will be killed off like the rest. It is said that it will take an army of 50,000 to subdue the savage Mohammedans.
